Hanoi: Nearly US$ 6.4 million for construction master plan consultancy

An international consultancy contract, valued at nearly US$ 6.4 million, was inked on December 26th by the Construction Ministry in Hanoi for help in working out a master plan for construction in Hanoi from now to 2030.

The US's Perkins Eastman, Korea's Posco E&C and Jina companies will work together to form a consultancy joint venture, to be called PPJ.

The Posco E&C Company, appointed as the PPJ's representative, will be responsible for the volume and quality of the planning files, contract payments, and construction quality inspections.

The project will be finalized by December, 2009 in order to be submitted to the Prime Minister for approval. It is expected that approval will come by June, 2010.
